October 2025

Welcome to Apera's 2024 ESG Report

We are pleased to present our 2024 Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) report, reflecting on the progress made over the past year.

Sustainability has been a fundamental pillar of Apera's approach to investment since inception. It reflects our core belief that responsible investment is essential to long-term financial performance. From the outset, we have embedded ESG considerations into the foundations of our investment processes. Nearly ten years on, we continue to make meaningful progress in advancing our sustainability integration. I was delighted to be appointed Apera's first dedicated ESG Manager in 2024 to further the development of our ESG capabilities.

In line with our ambition to support our portfolio companies with actionable sustainability insights and to contribute to broader industry progress, we joined the ESG Data Convergence Initiative (EDCI) in 2025 as it welcomed participation from the private debt community. As expectations around ESG integration continue to evolve, we recognise the importance of robust, high-quality data and collaborative partnerships in driving meaningful outcomes across the private markets ecosystem. Through this engagement, we actively support efforts to enhance transparency and consistency in ESG data, helping to establish a valuable benchmark for our borrowers to assess and improve their performance.

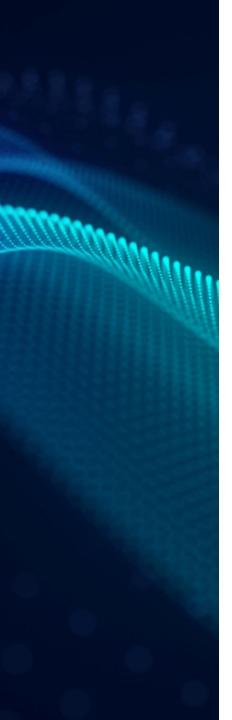

This year's ESG report reflects the collective efforts of our team and portfolio companies. It highlights where we are advancing, while also acknowledging areas where we need to go further. Sustainability is a journey and we remain committed to continuous improvement, collaboration, and transparency. Across the report you will find an overview of how ESG is integrated throughout the investment process at Apera, a review of the performance on ESG themes across our Funds, as well as insight into how we are managing material operational ESG topics at Apera.

We extend our gratitude to our investors for their continued trust and engagement. Together, we can drive meaningful change.

Robust management

Supporting our portfolio companies in pursuing their growth objectives is a constant theme of our investment activity. This works from the initial financing through the execution upon subsequent acquisition-led and organic, capex-driven initiatives. A fundamental part of this activity is the close relationships which our teams develop with company management and our focus upon building financing packages which serve the practicalities of their business models. Apera's significant capital under management has enabled us to support businesses across the UK and Continental Europe as they execute multi-year growth programmes. This in turn has aided the realisation by portfolio companies of operational targets, improved

Sustainability has always been a core value at Apera. Since formalising our commitment to responsible investing by becoming a signatory of the UN PRI in 2018, we have made significant progress in integrating ESG into our investment approach.

Recent key developments include strengthening our internal capabilities by appointing our first dedicated ESG manager and enhancing industry collaboration through our membership of the EDCI, which focuses on standardising ESG KPIs and providing valuable insights to our portfolio companies via the benchmark it establishes.

Looking ahead, we remain committed to maintaining momentum, deepening our engagement with borrowers and fostering greater collaboration with stakeholders.

Our Approach

Apera's Sustainability Governance Structure

Providing clear oversight to align investment decisions with our responsible investment objectives

ESG Committee

Apera's ESG Committee consists of three investment professionals and a dedicated ESG Manager:

- Salim Lemseffer: Partner, Chair & Paris ESG Champion;
- Francien Heckman: Dedicated ESG Manager;
- Sarah Arnold: Vice President & London ESG Champion;
- Finn Holdorf: Associate & Munich ESG Champion.

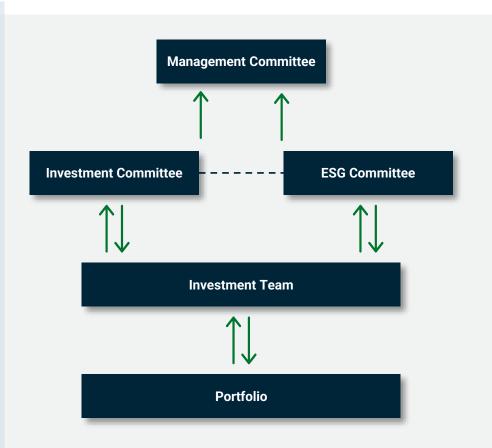

The ESG Committee is supported by Apera's senior management team.

Key Responsibilities of the ESG Committee

- Reviewing investment opportunities where material ESG risks are identified and providing ESG-related recommendations to investment teams and the Investment Committee.
- Overseeing annual ESG reporting from portfolio companies.
- Implementing and maintaining ESG policies and guidelines, including investment criteria and exclusion lists.
- Promoting firm-wide ESG awareness by communicating policies and best practices, reinforced through annual employee training.

ESG in Investment Decision-Making

- Investment teams are responsible for fulfilling ESG due diligence requirements, engaging with company management to complete the pre-investment ESG grid, and identifying material ESG risks and opportunities.
- The ESG Committee is consulted if investment opportunities are flagged for ESG concerns, ensuring ESG compliance in all investments.
- The ESG Committee has the discretion to escalate ESG concerns or recommend against transactions based on sustainability risks. Furthermore, ESG Committee Chair, Salim Lemseffer, is a member of the Investment Committee.

Embedding ESG Within Our Investment Process

From screening to exit, ESG informs our decisions

Exclusion policy

- We believe that some activities are not compatible with Apera's responsible investment objectives, because they entail sustainability risks or generate additional risks. Consequently, we exclude these borrowers from our investment activities.
- The exclusion and negative screening criteria are integrated into Apera's ESG policy, communicated to the investment teams, and reviewed periodically.

See p. 11 for more information.

ESG committee consultation

- If the investment falls into a 'grey area' (e.g. due to sector exposure or customer base) or if the pre-investment ESG assessment yields controversial results, the deal team consults the ESG Committee for a recommendation.
- The ESG Committee has the discretion to escalate ESG concerns or recommend against transactions based on sustainability risks.

See p. 11 for more information.

Pre-investment ESG grid

- The investment team carries out ESG screening and due diligence using the preinvestment grid, which evaluates the ESG materiality, exposure and management of a prospect.
- · Key findings are included in the Investment Memorandum for consideration by the Investment Committee.

See p. 12 for more information.

Documentation

- For most transactions, Apera will include a commitment in the credit agreement for the portfolio company to complete an annual ESG questionnaire and provide additional information on ESG topics.
- · Certain transactions may include an ESG margin ratchet in loan documentation, with a margin adjustment tied to the yearly achievement of targets on ESG KPIs.

ESG Monitoring & Reporting

- · Regular borrower meetings include ESG agenda items.
- · An annual ESG survey is sent to each borrower. Results are analysed to assess positive and negative ESG impacts and consolidated at portfolio-level.
- · Apera reports annually to our investors and industry initiatives (e.g. UN PRI and EDCI).

See p. 13 for more information.

Sustainability Linked Loan implementation

Where an ESG margin rachet is included in loan documentation. Apera will work together with company management and the sponsor to define ESG KPIs and annual Sustainability Performance Targets (SPTs). The performance against these targets may result in a margin adjustment.

ESG Selection During the Screening Process

Selecting investments that align with our responsible investment objectives

Apera's exclusion policy and process

Due to the nature of private debt, most of our influence is in the pre-investment stage, as such selection of assets is a fundamental aspect of our sustainability approach. In addition to ensuring that the firm complies with all applicable laws, regulations, and economic sanctions, Apera applies negative ESG screening across all Funds. This process excludes certain businesses from our investment universe based on sector, products or services, or behaviours deemed undesirable for moral or ethical reasons. Sectors deemed to have unmanageable risk(s) are outlined in our exclusion policy, communicated to the Investment Team and reviewed on a periodic basis.

In addition to the excluded activities, Apera applies a norms-based approach, considering the ten principles of the UN Global Compact across its four pillars: (i) Human Rights, (ii) Labour, (iii) Environment, and (iv) Anti-Corruption.

The investment team assesses compliance with the exclusion policy, if an opportunity falls into a "grey area" (e.g. due to sector exposure, customer base, supply chain etc.), the ESG Committee is consulted to form a view and can decline the opportunity.

Assessing ESG Risks and Opportunities During Due Diligence

Our pre-investment ESG grid provides a systematic approach to assessing ESG risks and opportunities

During the due diligence phase, each investment opportunity is assessed through two ESG lenses: the strategic proposition and the operational ESG performance. The proposition reflects the company's alignment with long-term sustainability developments and its potential role in a more sustainable future, whilst the ESG performance focuses on how effectively the company manages material ESG risks and implements responsible business practices.

Building on the initial ESG review during screening, the Investment Team assesses the company using Apera's proprietary Pre-Investment ESG Grid. This framework provides a systematic approach to assessing the company's current performance on sector-agnostic material ESG topics. The grid allocates up to 360 points for management of ESG risks, and 40 points for ESG-related opportunities and is applied consistently across all opportunities, regardless of company size or sector. A high-level overview of the key ESG considerations assessed in the grid is presented here.

Where due diligence materials do not sufficiently cover relevant ESG areas, the Investment Team engages directly with company management or sponsors to request additional information to complete the assessment. If available, Apera also reviews ESG due diligence reports provided by sponsors. These reports complement our internal analysis and support a comprehensive understanding of the company's ESG exposure.

Key ESG findings from the due diligence process are summarised in the Investment Memorandum, which is submitted to the Investment Committee for consideration.

The grid covers a comprehensive set of ESG factors that we believe are material across industries, including:

Pre-Investment ESG Grid

- · General: company size, geography, compliance with Apera's exclusion policy
- Environmental: climate change exposure and risks, carbon footprint, pollution, and biodiversity impact
- Social: net job creation, diversity and inclusion, employee wellbeing
- Governance: litigation history, Anti-Bribery and Corruption (ABC) practices, and cybersecurity safeguards

Assessment tools

To strengthen the robustness of our ESG analysis, we draw on several external tools and indices, including:

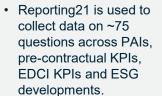

- Sustainability Accounting Standards Board (SASB): to assess financial materiality
- Transparency International's Corruption Perceptions Index: to assess governance and corruption-related risks
- Human Rights Map: to identify social and human rights-related risks
- ND-GAIN Country Index: to assess country-level climate resilience
- MSCI Materiality Map: to understand sector-specific ESG priorities
- Protected Planet: to evaluate potential biodiversity risks

The Portfolio Reporting and Engagement Process

Data forms the foundation of engagement with portfolio companies, allowing us to track and quantify progress

Data collection

- · Companies invested in during Q4 are granted leniency for reporting in the following year.
- A data collaboration initiative with sponsors was piloted for four companies, reducing questions to borrowers by 50 - 80%.

Partnerships and Industry Collaboration

Promoting transparency across the industry and keeping abreast of best practice

Collaboration and best practice sharing are catalysts for advancing responsible investing. Joining the UN PRI in January 2018 marked the formal start of our sustainability journey and our commitment to integrating its six principles. Since then, we have built on this foundation by joining additional initiatives that strengthen our sustainability approach, including becoming a supporting organisation of the TCFD and a member of the EDCI.

Apera has been a signatory of the UN Principles for Responsible Investment (UN PRI) since 2018 and is committed to integrating its six principles:

- 4. We will promote acceptance and implementation of the Principles within the investment industry.
- We will work together to enhance our effectiveness in implementing the Principles.
- 6. We will each report on our activities and progress towards implementing the Principles.

Apera has been a supporting organisation of the Task Force on Climate-Related Financial Disclosures (TCFD) since 2020. While not yet subject to mandatory reporting, we have integrated climate-related questions into our pre-investment ESG Grid and the annual ESG questionnaire.

The ESG Data Convergence Initiative (EDCI) is a private markets initiative committed to developing standardised ESG KPIs and a meaningful benchmark. Apera joined in 2025, the inaugural year for Private Credit participation. The dataset established by the EDCI is used to benchmark portfolio company performance versus peers.

2024 Carbon Footprint

The 2024 carbon footprint analysis was conducted in accordance with the GHG Protocol, covering Scope 1, 2 and 3 (categories 1 – 14) emissions. The main driver of operational emissions is service purchases, accounting for 84% of emissions or 981 tCO $_2$ e. As part of ongoing portfolio ESG monitoring, financed emissions (Scope 3 - category 15) are assessed separately.

Scope 1: 8.0 tCO₂e

Scope 2: 26.5 tCO₂e

Scope 3¹: 1,133 tCO₂e

Employees: 24.8 tCO₂e / employee

AUM:

299.0 kgCO₂e / €M AUM

To manage its emissions, Apera has introduced several internal initiatives. These include the implementation of "Go Green" initiatives:

Business travel carbon reduction emissions

Cycle-to-work schemes in select offices

Own operations

(International) train travel encouraged, where possible

Implementation of commonplace ESG standards

Implementation of waste separation facilities

Rising use of re-usable and recyclable materials in the offices

Our Culture

What makes Apera different

Leadership

Our leaders create an entrepreneurial environment that aims to challenge and inspire our people. The tone from the top is aimed at providing an inclusive, collaborative environment so people can thrive in their roles. When times are tough our leaders aim to provide support and guidance to promote success.

Our values drive our culture.

Our Culture is key to developing our people strategy and developing the framework within which we operate.

We aim to align business goals and results with our people management approach, our culture.

Building capabilities

As a growing business we aim to have a focus on both what needs to be done today but also by thinking about what will be required tomorrow. We aim to increase our bench strength year on year by hiring the best people that can help develop our business and their career with us. We support development through technical training, on the job training and finding opportunities for skill building and collaboration through ancillary roles.

Valuing diversity of our talent

We believe creating a diverse, inclusive & equitable culture leads to better results. We are committed to attracting talent through our hiring practices, ensuring hiring decisions are grounded in merit and enriched by a diversity of viewpoints. Our commitment to inclusion extends beyond recruitment. We maintain robust policies that promote fairness and respect, including our Equal Opportunities, Anti-Harassment, and Family Leave Policies.

Talent development

We believe that great performance is cultivated in an environment of open communication and continuous feedback. Through both formal channels, such as our mid-year and year-end performance reviews, and informal touchpoints, every employee has a clear understanding of their goals and progress.

Employee wellbeing

We support our team with flexible working policies, comprehensive health insurance that includes mental health coverage, study support, and access to fitness options. Our annual offsites bring all employees together with the intention of facilitating team bonding and creating strategic goals.
